JANESVILLE, TUESDAY, APRIL 8.

STATE OF WISCONSIN.

A PROCLAMATION BY THE GOVERNOR.

In conformity with law, I, William D. Hoard, Governor of the State of Wisconsin, do designate

Wednesday, April 30th Next, as Arbor Day, and recommend that all public schools and colleges of the state observe the same by suitable exercises, "having for their object the imparting of knowledge of horticulture, in the department known as arboriculture, and the adornment of schools and public grounds."

In testimony whereof, I have hereunto set my hand, and caused the great seal of the state of Wisconsin to be affixed, Done at the capitol, in the city of Madison, this 15th day of March, A. D. 1890.

WILLIAM D. HOARD.
By the Governor:
ERNEST G. TYLER, Secretary of State.

"IN ITS OLD BREECES."

The vote on the Saxton ballot reform bill in the New York assembly was 72 for and 51 against it, and of those for it were republicans but four, while those against it all were democrats. This is a fair test of the earnestness of the democratic movement for ballot reform. It is all bluster. When given a chance to prove their faith in the reform they fail to do it. The vote in the assembly shows that the Saxton bill will get through the legislature by republican vote, but that it will be vetoed by the democratic governor of New York and likely defeated.

The vote on the ballot reform bill in the New York legislature is but a repetition of the history of the democratic party. In all the great reforms in this country the democratic party has never been found in the lead. From the time the first homestead bill was passed by congress thirty years ago till the movement of the present time to prevent gerrymandering congressional districts, the democratic party has been found pulling backward on the vital public question. It is opposed to the much needed reform of applying the reform ballot system to congressional districts, and the opposition to purity of elections in New York, meets with the approval of the democratic party in that state.

When the Utah bill was before the house of representatives the other day, the democrats opposed it. Why? In the running debate on the bill the following report of the remarks of Mr. Henderson, of Iowa, may not be uninteresting:

Mr. Henderson (Ia.) said that the attitude of the democratic party was a familiar sight to the country. It was the democratic party behind its old shield—a constitution of its own making, not a constitution made by the fat heads. The democratic party was in its old breeches, pulling back, back, when the civilized world was crying "Forward and Onward." (Applause on republican side.) The democratic party was a polygamist (Laughter.) It had a whole batch of wives (Laughter.)

Mr. Turner (N. Y.)—We never had more than one name.

Mr. Henderson—No you never had more than one name, but you have had a batch of wives. Who were they? Slavery was one. Slave territory was another; treason was another. (Derisive laughter on democratic side.)

Mr. Henderson—Oh! You recognize them, boys. (Laughter.) You know their names. And now you have polygamy for one of your wives. Corrupt ballot-boxes was one of your wives, and you have been true to every one of them. (Laughter.) You never left the back and board for a single moment. Like your loyalty to them, but do not seek behind constitutional shields to cover up your purpose. Now when the little territory has an example of authority that should appeal to this legislative body you bring in constitutional shields to try to get under that cover. But the people know what you are. Shiek to your women, boys, we will help Idaho to study the principles she has advanced. (Laughter and applause.)

OPPOSITION TO THE MCKINLEY TARIFF.

There is widespread dissatisfaction with some of the features of the McKinley tariff bill, especially in regard to the duty on wine, and the 15 per cent on hides. This dissatisfaction, especially as applied to the duty on raw hides, does not come altogether from the democratic papers, for they are not placed in the counting, but it comes from some of the ablest republican papers in the country. Probably in all this land there is not a more partisan republican paper than the Boston Journal, and yet it has the good courage and good sense to say: "There is substantially reason for the dissatisfaction with the tariff bill as reported to the full committee on ways and means which is felt in New England. The provisions as to hides and as to carpet wool are particularly distasteful."

The Cleveland Leader, most progressive of republican journals in Ohio, denounces the distasteful hide features of the McKinley bill. Then the Boston Advertiser another representative republican paper says:

We do not hesitate to say to Chairman McKinley and his republican associates that they have made in this matter a serious blunder. It is a blunder from every point of view, economic and political. There is no demand for this article from any representative body of people in any quarter. The duty proposed would not, if enacted, benefit the farmers in the slightest degree, and the farmers are intelligent enough to understand that it would not. The price which producers of western cattle receive for their stock would not be increased by the smallest fraction of a cent per pound. This industry is carried on with reference to beef and not with reference to hides. They do not and will not have any independent market for hides. Whatever additional price might be obtained for American hides by reason of the new duty would go undivided into the pockets of the combination that controls the dress-beef business. As for the New England farmers, their share of the cattle trade is so slight that any advantage which they might hope to realize from this source would be easily controlled by the dress-beef business. For the New England farmers, their share of the cattle trade is so slight that any advantage which they might hope to realize from this source would be easily controlled by the dress-beef business. For the New England farmers, their share of the cattle trade is so slight that any advantage which they might hope to realize from this source would be easily controlled by the dress-beef business.

It has been shown that a duty of even 15 per cent on hides would entail a great loss to the shoe industry in the east, and in the west, for that matter. There is a great struggle going on now to keep the large boot and shoe business from collapsing, and the manufacturers do not want any more burdens imposed upon them.

It is claimed that the farmers demanded this duty on hides so as to increase the profit on hides! It is more than likely that not a single farmer in all the United States, unless he belongs to the cattle barons, wants his boot and shoe leather to increase in price. A duty on hides does not protect cattle raising. It simply increases the price of leather for the special benefit of such men as Phil Armour. It is that class of men who want the duty restored on hides. They want to shut out foreign hides that they may increase in value, and this increase would not enhance the price of cattle for the hide is only one-sixth part of the value of an animal that produces it. So that any duty that seeks to be protective in an article like hides, will not encourage the "raising of hides," but will rather increase the cost of boots and shoes.

The McKinley committee will make a serious blunder if they bow the neck to the greedy cattle kings who, for their own gain, want to increase the price of hides. Throwing aside all political considerations, the committee's bill as it respects hides, twine, and carpet wool, is a false one. It tears down and does not build up. It is an imposition upon the people—making them pay tribute to men who, while largely controlling the cattle markets of the country, have neither heart nor conscience in the business of demanding protection.

GRADUATING EXERCISES.

New Rules Adopted for the Class of '90 by the School Board.

The board of education held a regular monthly meeting last evening in the city clerk's office, all the members being present.

The special committee, consisting of Commissioners Fethers and McElroy, appointed to determine graduation day, exercises, submitted the following report, which was adopted:

To the Board of Education:

At the last regular meeting of the board the undersigned were appointed a committee to consult with the superintendent, teachers of the high school and the graduating class, as to the best method of conducting graduating exercises; and you further instructed the committee as follows:

"Said committee is authorized to determine the same."

We have consulted with the persons suggested in the resolution, and have endeavored to obtain from other sources all the information possible, and as a result, we are heartily agreed upon what seems to us to be "the best method of conducting graduating exercises." But while we are authorized by the resolution to determine the matter, we have felt that all things considered, it will be better to report our conclusions to the board for approval, or disapproval, as you shall determine. Our object has been to arrive at some method.

(1.) That shall give the graduating class as much time as possible for school room work.

(2.) That shall shorten the graduating exercises, which have heretofore been unreasonably long.

(3.) That shall introduce, to a degree, the merit system, and at the same time give the class the privilege of selecting its representative.

(4.) To establish a precedent which may be followed hereafter, having in view the best interests of the public school system in this city.

We desire to express our thanks to the various parties with whom we have consulted for information concerning their views. We have found some diversity of opinion, or desire, but we have readily reached a conclusion.

We therefore ask the adoption by your honorable board of the resolution accompanying this report, and which is hereby made a part thereof.

Dated April 5, 1890.

H. McELROY,
ODDEN H. FETHERS,
Committee.

Resolved, That at the public exercises of the graduating class of the High school, and beginning with the present year, three essays only shall be read; one of them shall be read by each member of the class who shall have attained the highest standard of excellence in all the studies required by and during the high school course; the other two shall be read by the two graduates who shall be elected by the separate ballots of all the graduates for the current year, in the presence of the superintendent, and at such time as he may direct.

Esays shall be prepared by each member of the class, and the names of the graduates, in alphabetical order, together with the titles of their essays, shall appear upon the printed programme of exercises, the three who shall read their essays being indicated by an appropriate note. The usual musical and other exercises shall be added under the direction of the superintendent.

Superintendent Stewart was authorized to purchase fifteen drawing models at a cost not to exceed $25.

Miss Retheram was elected to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Miss Winnie Clark in the Lincoln school for the ensuing term at a salary of $35 per month.

On motion the board adjourned.

THE HENNEPIN CANAL.

Arguments for the Big Waterway Before the House Appropriation Committee.

THE SENATE DEPENDENT PENSION BILL POSTPONED.

Refusal of the House to Suspend the Rules and Pass the Measure—Capital Gossip.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—In the Senate the House amendment to the joint resolution for the removal of the naval magazine from Ellis Island, N. Y., was concurred in.

Mr. Evans presented resolutions of the New York Chamber of Commerce, protesting against the pending bill for a census enumeration of the Chinese as absurd, barbarous, unchristian and cowardly, and a memorial on the same subject from the American Missionary association was presented by Mr. Davis.

Mr. Platt presented a memorial for the admission of New Mexico as a State, but without committing himself, he said, to the views set forth in it.

Among the bills reported from committees and placed on the calendar was the following: House bill to amend the homestead laws in regard to the manner of applications and to fees; Senate bills for public buildings at Kansas City ($200,000), Grand Haven, Mich. ($160,000), and Mansfield, Ohio ($100,000).

The bill to allow the erection of a bridge across the Iowa river at Wapella, Iowa, was reported and passed with an amendment in the way of a substitute.

The Montana election case was then taken up, and Mr. Vance, a member of the committee on privileges and elections, made an argument in support of the minority report, declaring Clark and Maximos (the Greek) Senators (the anti-unionists) entitled to the seat.

The House.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Mr. Morrill, of Kansas, moved to suspend the rules (pass with a substitute) Senate bill granting pensions to soldiers and sailors who are incapacitated from the performance of labor, and providing for pensions to minor children and dependent parents.

Mr. Springer, of Illinois, demanded a second and the motion was seconded—128 to 57.

Mr. Morrill briefly explained that the substitute provided a service pension of $4 a month to soldiers who have reached the age of 62 years or who are dependent. He thought the same principles which had been applied to the veterans of the war of 1812 and the war of 1846 should be applied to the veterans of the war of 1861.

The Democrats opposed the motion on the ground that the consideration of the bill in this manner gave but limited opportunity for debate and shut out amendments. They declared that this bill was a violation of the Republican pledge to give to soldiers a service pension. The motion to suspend the rules and pass the bill was finally lost—yeas, 109; nays, 87; not the necessary two-thirds in the affirmative.

The following bills were passed under suspension of the rules: Senate bill appropriating $15,000 to build an addition to the public building at Houston, Texas; Senate bill for a public building at Salina, Kan., at a cost of $75,000; to establish two additional land districts in Nebraska; for the relief of Asa Ellis, collector of internal revenue for the First collection district of California.

FOR THE BIG WATERWAY.

Jerry Murphy Makes an Argument in Favor of the Hennepin Canal.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—An extended and forcible argument in favor of a government appropriation for the building of the Hennepin canal was made before the House yesterday morning by Mr. Jerry Murphy, the long-time advocate of the project. Nearly all of the Illinois congressmen were present.

Mr. Murphy reviewed the steps heretofore taken in the efforts to establish this great project, and set forth the overwhelming endorsement of the enterprise by statesmen, legislative bodies, conventions, and others since 1845, when John C. Calhoun, "that strict constructionist," presided over a convention at Memphis which adopted a resolution declaring that the project of connecting the Mississippi river with the lakes of the north by a canal, and thus with the Atlantic ocean, was a measure worthy of the consideration of Congress.

He submitted many figures to show that the United States had done less to improve her waterway in the interest of commerce than England, France, Russia, Germany, Holland, Sweden, or Austria. The importance of the Hennepin canal for defensive purposes in time of war was also forcibly set forth. Speaking of what the canal would do for agriculture and commerce, Mr. Murphy said:

"I make the statement, and challenge investigation, that if the government through its representatives, will do its duty and construct this canal there will be a saving of at least 4 cents per bushel over present rates. The Mississippi river to the lakes. And the saving of 4 cents per bushel on the surplus grain of Illinois, Iowa, Kansas, Nebraska, Minnesota, and Wisconsin will amount annually to $2,834,070, enough to build this canal three times, and not including this estimate other products of the Western tollers that would amount to millions more."

EX-SPEAKER RANDALL DYING.

His Family Obligated to Give Up All Hope of His Recovery.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Ex-Speaker Randall is in a dying condition, a fact which is now realized and believed by his family. His wife is now prepared for the inevitable. Mr. Randall has been low all day. During the last forty-eight hours he has been unable to recognize any of his family. It is apparent that he is sinking steadily, and his death is imminent.

"EGG-ROLLING" FESTIVAL.

Celebration of the Washington Children on the White House Grounds.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The White house grounds were crowded Monday with thousands of children in holiday attire celebrating their Easter Monday "egg-rolling" festival. The festival, as usual, attracted much attention, and was greatly enjoyed by the President and his family, who watched the scenes from the windows of the White house with much interest.

Keeping the Steele Verdict Dark.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Gen. Schofield says that no information will be given to the press in regard to the Steele-Wild court-martial case until it has been finally disposed of, which will not be for several days yet. The impression prevails that Lieut. Steele was found guilty of a technical assault and was sentenced to a short suspension from rank and duty and to be reprimanded.

Approved by the President.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—The President approved the act to provide for the times and places to hold terms of the United States courts in the State of Washington, and the act to enable the Secretary of the Treasury to gather full and authentic information in regard to the Alaska seal fisheries.

ALGER FAILED TO APPEAR.

Veterans at Des Moines Disappointed at His Non-Arrival.

DES MOINES, Iowa, April 8.—The Grand Army veterans had pleasant weather for the first day of their State encampment. They arrived in large numbers, coming from every section of the State, and in the grand review they expect to have 10,000 men in line. Gen. Alger, the national commander, was expected in the afternoon, and all the local posts turned out to receive him, while thousands of citizens helped swell the crowd. The train arrived and the bands played lustily and the people and soldiers cheered, but all for naught.

The general was not on the train. Something was wrong, as the reception committee had received a telegram that the general's special car would be attached to this train. Late in the afternoon it was learned that Gen. Alger and party were in Chicago and would reach Des Moines at 6 o'clock in the morning. The reception which had been arranged for at the governor's rooms in the evening was therefore postponed. At night camp-fires were held at nearly all the public halls and opera-houses in the city. The veterans were addressed by prominent members of the State organization.

WHEAT IN STORE.

Increase of Stocks in Minnesota and Dakota Elevators.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., April 8.—Figures collected by the Northwestern Miller show the stock of wheat held in private elevators here, and not included in the visible-supply statement, to be 1,937,000 bushels, a decrease of 77,000 bushels for the week. This leaves stocks as follows at three points: Minneapolis, public, 7,540,061 bushels; private 1,937,000; St. Paul, 295,000; Duluth, 5,824,140; total 15,596,200 bushels; increase for the week, 250,487 bushels. The Market Record estimates the stock of wheat in country elevators of Minnesota and the Dakotas at 3,268,000 bushels, a decrease of 436,000 bushels. Last May the country stocks amounted to 3,705,000 bushels.

MISS OLOF KRÄRER.
The Little Esquimaux Lady Entertains a Large Audience, Telling of Greenland.
Last evening a large audience gathered at the Congregational church to hear Miss Krärer's lecture on "Greenland—its people and customs." Miss Krärer was introduced by Mr. Wilder. She was born on the east coast of Greenland; when fifteen years of age she with some friends crossed to Iceland on dog sleighs, for five years she studied in a mission school; at the age of twenty she came to Manitoba with her father. She had four brothers and three sisters, all shorter than herself; she is forty inches high. A tall man in Greenland is four feet high. The Esquimaux live in snow houses, large at the bottom and small at the top; snow is cut in blocks and piled up like brick in this country. The floor is carpeted with furs, and a fur curtain hung over the doorway. A hall, so narrow that it is impossible for people to pass each other, runs back from the door. The fire is built in the center of the house. Bones and meat constitute the fuel. Flint is used instead of matches and it is as valuable there as gold is here. The people are dark and greasy. The smoke settling on them makes them yellow. We never wash ourselves. When I left Greenland I had never touched water. When I saw people wash in Iceland I wondered what they were doing. When given soap and water I put the soap in my mouth thinking it was to eat. I looked like an Indian, and if anyone touched my hair I would stick like a plaster it was so greasy. I was sick and my hair was out. I was bathed and my head washed in soap and water. My hair came out again the color it is now, (brown). We would not be darker than people of this country if we washed. A baby is, just as white as babies here. Instead of being washed they are oiled at birth and as long as they live. No care is taken of the sick. The most that is ever done is to throw them a piece of meat that no one else wants. There are no doctors, lawyers, ministers, teachers, schools or rulers. Every one does as he pleases. All are the same and have equal rights. The only difference is that those who own furs are the rich. They lend it to the others. All borrow and lend. People do not live to be old in Greenland. Sixty is very old. The majority die between thirty and forty. The food consists of oil and meat. The dress is fur. When out of doors two suits are worn, the under seal fur, the outer polar bear. The only difference between a man's and woman's dress is that the coat of the woman is long and pointed while the man's is shorter and square. No cooking is ever done. Food is eaten raw and frozen. There are four months day, six months night and two months twilight. Day is our poorest time. Twilight is the best. It is during this time that the ice breaks up and the seal, bear, whale and other animals are caught. Whales from ninety to one hundred feet long are caught half dead between the icebergs. Reindeer are scarce, because there is nothing for them to live on. We never eat them. The skin is used for straps for the dogs. The sleighs are of whale bone or skin. The dogs are grey, with long nose and short ears. Beds are made of furs thrown on the carpets. A single man has a sack, with fur turned in, just big enough for himself, and crawls in head first. A young man must take his wife secretly; if he is caught, he is killed. If he leaves her he is killed for that. As a punishment, a child is struck with a hot whale bone; any where except on the face. After a baby stops crying its mother will take and pet it.
Old people die of starvation. A sick man is taken to a deserted house. A woman stays with her family. We believe in good and bad spirits. One great and several small good spirits. One great and several small bad spirits. After death people know all that goes on. It was the study in Iceland of this country's history and government that made me desire to come here. In Minnesota the best made me sick all summer. We have to get used to a warm, damp climate by degrees. The Esquimaux thinks the good place is warm and the bad place cold. Cold is the worst to them, and it would never do to tell them the bad place is hot. The women have no scrubbing, cooking, and such things to do. There is no water, even to drink. Ice is melted in the mouth. "Siwawa" of the reindeer are used for thread. Guessing who is the prettiest, forms the chief amusement. The prettiest is the greatest.
Miss Krärer first appeared in a red satin dress, and afterwards changed to her native costume, made of polar bear skin. This costume was made seventeen years ago by her mother, in Greenland. Since then it has been sewed with thread. In this warm climate the sinews soon decay.

OUR CITY GOVERNMENT.
Proceedings of the Common Council at the Regular Meeting Last Evening.
THE REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE ON SEWERAGE PLANS.
The canvass of the City Vote—Closing up the Business of the Old Council.
The common council held a regular meeting last evening, at which Hon. Mayor St. John, presided, all the aldermen being present except Ald. Casey.
The journal of the last regular meeting was read and approved.
Ald. Conrad was excused from further attendance at this meeting.
The clerk read a notice from the mayor stating that he had appointed Ed. Smith and T. McGinley as special police for Saturday nights and Sundays from March 4th to June 4th.
Ald. McLean moved that the appointments be confirmed.
Ald. Baker objected to the council confirming these appointments, deeming it a useless expense. He was willing to pay an extra policeman for his full time, but thought the city had paid these men long enough. The merchants paid these men for their services as private watchmen, and they received an amount which they were willing to work for. He did not think it right for the city to make them this weekly donation. He contributed for the pay of the private watchman, and was willing to vote to employ a regular policeman if deemed necessary.
Ald. McLean stated that the appointments were made at the request of Marshal Hogen, the marshal deeming this all the assistance he required.
The question of confirming the appointments was then put and adopted, only one or two negative votes being heard.
The clerk announced the appointment by the mayor of W. H. Palmer, as a member of the fire police company. Referred to fire and water committee, and subsequently reported back and confirmed.
The January, February and March reports of the board of education were presented, referred to the committee on schools, found correct, placed on file and ordered printed.
The February and March reports of the judge of the municipal court, were presented, found correct and placed on file.
The resignation of S. A. Wolcott as a member of the fire department, was accepted.
The reports of the city treasurer for the month of February and March were referred to the finance committee.
The usual batch of bills was referred to the finance committee.
The clerk presented the poll books and returns of the late election. Referred to the judiciary committee.
Ald. Baker, of the finance committee, reported in favor of allowing sundry bills against the several funds aggregated as follows:
General fund $ 36 25
Highway, street and bridge fund 10 00
Fire and electric light fund 10 00
Fire and water fund 20 00
First ward fund 20 00
Second ward fund 20 00
Third ward fund 20 00
Fourth ward fund 20 00
Fifth ward fund 12 50
Total $160 25
On motion the bills were suspended and the report was concurred in.
Ald. Baker, on order for the payment of the per diem of the inspectors and clerks of election. Adopted.
Ald. Horn moved that the council take a recess in order to give the judiciary committee time to make the canvass of the votes of the late election.
Mayor St. John—If there be no objections the council will take a recess for this purpose.
The committee held a brief consultation, and informing the mayor that the committee was ready to report, the council was called to order.
Ald. Baker, on behalf of the committee, asked for further time to prepare a report. Request was granted.
This request was made in order to await the result of the recount of the ballots in the second and third wards.
Ald. Jackson moved that the council adjourned it be until Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Adopted.
Ald. Horn, of the gas committee, stated that the committee had been over the city and found a number of broken and worthless street lamps, and had ordered new ones to take the place.
Ald. Norris, of the park committee, reported that the committee had engaged Tom Croft to work in the city parks the coming season at $40 per month, his time commencing on Friday last. The report was adopted.
Also, that the committee had arranged with Mr. Field to plant a tree in the Tallman park as soon as the ground was ready.
Ald. Norris, of the special committee on providing voting booths, reported that all the voting paraphernalia of the several wards, including tables, chairs, lamps, etc., had been stored in the city building near the first ward school building.
The report was accepted and the committee discharged.
Ald. Rowe, of the special committee, reported that the committee had examined the reports of the city attorney, the chief engineer of the fire department, and the street commissioner; and had found the reports of the city attorney and chief engineer correct, and they had been published. The street commissioner's report was incorrect, in that it only covered eight months, and did not show all the expenditures. The committee had spent considerable time in examining this report, and it would require two weeks' time to go through the books and make a correct report. The committee did not wish to devote so much time for this purpose, and therefore had withheld its publication.
Ald. Jackson stated that while he presumed Mr. Brown had done the work the report was not correct. But the money had been paid for the orders were there to show it. The committee, however, could not take time to figure it out.
On motion of Ald. McLean the report was accepted and committee discharged.

ALD. BAKER FROM THE SPECIAL COMMITTEE ON SEWERAGE, PRESENTED THE FOLLOWING REPORT:
To the Honorable, the Mayor and the Common Council:
Your committee would respectfully report that in the investigation of the sewerage of this city, we have had the city thoroughly inspected by three well-known engineers—John A. Cole, Samuel G. Ashmuthall and O. E. Wells, your committee accompanied them on the city and showing all places where there is any difficulty with surface drainage, and giving such other information as we possessed. All the above engineers agree that our city is badly in need of sewerage, and that it is highly situated for the construction of a successful system. The expense would not be great in comparison with that of other cities of our size. From the expressions we have heard since this matter has been before the council, we are satisfied that a large majority of the citizens are in favor of the construction of sewerage at an early day possible. We think the council would set in accordance with the majority of the tax payers if they would adopt a plan, and we would recommend that the council enter into a contract with one of the above engineers for the making of such a plan and specifications for a complete system of sewerage for the whole city. Respectfully submitted.
J. P. BAKER,
O. S. JONES, Geo. HANCOCK.
